

Interested in Being Paired With a Patient Peer Mentor?

Are you looking to connect with a peer who is thriving with kidney disease?

Are you interested in learning from someone who has kidney disease?

Are you ready to hear more about kidney disease treatment choices?

If you answered “yes” to the questions above, you might benefit from peer mentoring.

What Do I Need to Do to Get Connected With a Peer Mentor?

- Let your facility social worker, nurse, manager or other staff know that you are interested in being connected with a peer mentor.
- Complete the Peer Mentee Application to help pair you with a peer mentor.
- Set aside time to connect with your peer mentor in person by phone or Zoom at least once a week.

Where Can I Get More Information on the Peer Mentoring Program?

	Speak with your facility staff for more information about connection with a peer mentor.
